

High School Cross Country

Trishy Blume and the cross country co-op ran well in the state meet finishing fourth overall. Congratulations on a great season!

Soccer

The 5th and 6th grade navy soccer team beat Sts Peter and Paul 3-0 on Saturday to advance to the championship of the Diocesan Soccer playoffs. Unfortunately, they gave up two goals early and were not able to recover losing to St Kilian 3-0. Despite the loss, they had a remarkable season finishing 2nd overall and winning their section. Earning all-tournament honors were: Mark Bence, Eliana Bousamra, Lucille McCargo and William Scioscia. Lucille and William were also named MVPs of the tournament.

The 7th and 8th grade soccer team beat St Kilian 4-0 on Saturday to advance to the championship game as well. They played a close game against Blessed Trinity, finding themselves tied 2-2 at the end of overtime. Unfortunately, they lost in the shootout. They too had a remarkable season finishing 2nd overall and winning their section. Earning all-tournament honors were: John Bence, David Bukowski, Bella Hite, Jake Stofko, Jude Truschel, and Elijah Vangura. John and Bella were also named tournament MVPs.

Alumni in Sports

Rachel Phillips: Freshman
Fairmont State University –
FSU's first ever MEC Tournament appearance Tuesday was loss in a shootout after a 0-0 draw for 110 min.

WEST LIBERTY, W.Va. – Third-seeded Fairmont State and second-seeded West Liberty battled to a scoreless draw through 110 minutes of play, but West Liberty advanced to the MEC Women's Soccer Tournament Semifinals by edging the Falcons 7-6 in penalty kicks.

With the setback, Fairmont State's record-breaking 2018 campaign came to an end with an 8-6-4 overall record. In 2018, the Falcons set program records for wins (8), conference wins (6), and shutouts (9). The Falcons also recorded the first-ever winning record in program history and earned a berth in the MEC Tournament for the first time.

West Liberty (6-8-4) advances to take on West Virginia Wesleyan, the top seed in the South Division, on Friday at 1 p.m.

The Hilltoppers started quickly in the first half and created several scoring opportunities early, forcing Isabelle Vaccari to make five of her seven saves in the first 45 minutes. The Falcons settled in, though, and created several scoring chances of their own in the second half, including multiple good looks on corner kicks.

After a pair of uneventful 10 minute overtime periods, the game moved to penalty kicks. The first four shooters made their attempts, and then West Liberty's Lauren Hartnell came up with a save on the fifth Fairmont State attempt. The Hilltoppers stepped to the spot with a chance to win it, but the attempt rolled wide of the frame. The two teams exchanged makes, and then Fairmont State missed an attempt giving West Liberty another shot at the win. This time, Kaelyn Oskin was able to convert her chance sealing the win for the Hilltoppers.

The statistics supported the evenly played match with West Liberty holding the slight edge in shots, 15-14, and corner kicks being even at 4-4.

Vaccari was called upon to make seven saves on the day. The true-freshman recorded her seventh shutout of the season with today's performance.

West Liberty goalkeeper Lauren Hartnell registered two saves.

Louise Welch was the top attacker for Fairmont State, getting off six shots in the game.

Fairmont State will return 10 of 11 starters from today's game during the 2019 season.

John Reed (sophomore) runs cross country for Rensselaer Polytech Institute. RPI will compete in the NCAA Atlantic Regional at Rowan University in Logan, NJ tomorrow, November 10th. Best of luck John!
